

it's an amazing feeling," Annunziata said.

Annunziata now shares the hobby with his son, who he said now drops everything for the opportunity to go shoot trap.

"I never have to drag him out to go shoot," he said.

Young people are the club's future.

"Our goal is to provide people with practice and the education on the skills," Annunziata said. "We're not going to be around for another 75 years if we don't."

In 75 years, the club has never had a person get injured because of misuse of a fire-arm, though one person did get hurt after getting an arm too close to a trap thrower.

That can be directly attributed to the club's stance on safety, Annunziata said.

For Jerry "Fats" Steffen, a club member since 1972, being a club member is also about helping young people

World renowned trick shot artist Tom Knapp selects a young boy to help him make an "egg salad" later on during his Sunday performance. Seven youngsters threw dozens of eggs in rapid fire succession while Knapp shot each egg with his 12-gauge "salad shooter." Photo by Kyle Weaver